Orientation of Interns on Bioethical Principles- 3rd August 2016

Interns Orientation programme on “Bioethical principles” was held on 3rd August 2016 in Community Medicine seminar hall of Seth G S Medical College & K E M hospital, Mumbai, India.

GSMC MUHS UNESCO Bioethics Unit, Head of Unit Dr Santosh Salagre, and Steering Committee members Dr Monty Khajanchi and Dr Mariya Jiandani conducted the training session. The interns were sensitized to concept and need of bioethics in day to day functioning. They were sensitized to all the key Bioethics principles.

The cardinal principles of Beneficence, Non-maleficence, Justice, confidentiality, Autonomy and Human Dignity & Human Rights were discussed using regional movies clips, videos and real life situations. The session was conducted in interactive manner, interns debriefing on the video clips followed by inputs from the faculty.

The interns were also made aware of the Ethical Dilemmas and Conflicts of various bioethical principles through the daily encountered examples.

The interns actively participated in the discussion and the feedback was very positive.
